

ROYAL COURT

25th October, 1990

159.

Before: The Bailiff, and
Jurats Coutanche and Gruchy

Police Court Appeal: Jim Duncan de la Haye

Appeal against conviction on one charge of being disorderly on licensed premises.

Advocate S.C. Nicolle for the Crown
Advocate G.R. Boxall for the appellant.

JUDGMENT

BAILIFF: There has been a misunderstanding not a miscarriage of justice in the accepted sense and I am glad that you do not criticise the Magistrate, but in view of what you have said and in view of Miss Nicolle not opposing the application, we have to remit it we think - justice requires us to remit it - to the Police Court for a new trial, and I have no idea what will happen. You can have your legal aid costs.
