

Privy Council Appeal No. 6 of 1988

Dr. Raja Francis Wannaku-Korale

Appellant

v.

The General Medical Council

Respondent

FROM

THE PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT COMMITTEE
OF THE GENERAL MEDICAL COUNCIL

ORAL JUDGMENT OF THE LORDS OF THE JUDICIAL COMMITTEE
OF THE PRIVY COUNCIL, DELIVERED THE 19TH MAY 1988

Present at the Hearing:

LORD BRANDON OF OAKBROOK

LORD GRIFFITHS

LORD ACKNER

[Delivered by Lord Brandon of Oakbrook]

Their Lordships have considered with care the appellant's written case, the transcript of the oral evidence adduced before the Professional Conduct Committee, copies of the documents put in evidence before that Committee and the oral submissions made by the appellant to them today. Having done so, their Lordships have reached the conclusion that there is no ground on which they would be justified in interfering with the decision of the Professional Conduct Committee either in regard to its determination or in regard to its direction for erasure.

Their Lordships will accordingly humbly advise Her Majesty that the appeal should be dismissed. The appellant must pay the respondent's costs.
