DECISION

Covid-19 pandemic: description of hearing

This has been a remote hearing on the papers which has not been objected to by the parties. The form of remote hearing was P:PAPERREMOTE. A face-to-face hearing was not held because it was not practicable and no-one requested the same and all issues could be determined on paper. The documents that I was referred to are in an electronic bundle prepared by the applicant containing 36 pages. References in this decision are to page numbers in square brackets. The order made is described at the end of these reasons.

Decision

1. The Tribunal grants the applicant retrospective dispensation from the statutory consultation requirements in respect of remedial roof works at 18 Woodstock Grove, Shepherds Bush, London W12 8LA ("The building").

Background to the Application

2. The Tribunal did not inspect the building as it considered the documentation and information before it in the appeal bundle enabled the Tribunal to proceed with this determination and also because of the restrictions and regulations arising out of the Covid-19 pandemic.
3. This has been a paper hearing which has not been objected to by the parties. The Tribunal had before it an electronic bundle prepared by the applicant in accordance with the Tribunal's directions issued on 5th October 2021 [21].
4. The applicant landlord seeks retrospective dispensation under section 20ZA of the Landlord and Tenant Act 1985 ("the 1985 Act") from the consultation requirements imposed on the landlord by section 20 of the 1985 Act in respect of remedial roof works at the building further to a leak into Flat 4 on the second floor. That leak was reported by the leaseholders of that flat on 12/07/2021 described as "water pouring into the flat through the light fittings". Electrical works were required to disconnect the kitchen lights to make the electrics safe, leaving the occupiers with battery operated lights only until the roof works were completed [27].
5. The remedial roof works were carried out on or around 06/08/2021. No Section 20 Notices were issued to the leaseholders. The reason given was because the representative knew "what work was required and the cost Leaseholders were written to and notified" [8].
6. The works were said to be urgent because of the leak into the second floor flat through the light fittings making the electrics unsafe and causing damage to decorations.

7. The building is a brick built Edwardian terrace house which has been converted into 4 flats over 4 floors: The Garden Flat, the Ground floor flat, the 1st Floor Flat and the 2nd Floor Flat (flat 4).
8. By an email dated 29/07/2021, the leaseholders were informed of a serious water ingress into flat 4. Information was provided in relation to two quotations obtained for the cost of scaffolding, the roof being inaccessible without scaffolding. Hamilton Roofing provided a quotation of £1350 plus VAT for the scaffolding and a “worst case” scenario of a provisional quotation for roof repairs of £3000 plus VAT. The second company, Tudor Roofing, quoted £1400 including VAT for the scaffolding but were not prepared to provide a provisional quotation for works without an inspection having taken place. Based on the quotations, the applicant’s representatives decided to instruct Hamilton Roofing. The email also informs the leaseholders about the planned dispensation application to the First-tier Tribunal [35].
9. The invoice for the works carried out by Hamilton Roofing is dated 06/08/2021 and details the work carried out. The total amount charged was £5220 inclusive of VAT [36].
10. On 11/10/2021 the applicant’s representative confirmed service by email of the application and directions to all the leaseholders. The representative further confirmed that on 13/10/2021 they were intending to place the application and the directions in the communal hallway in compliance with Tribunal’s Direction (1).

The leaseholders’ case

11. No objections to this application have been received by the Tribunal.

Reasons for Decision

12. The only issue for the Tribunal to decide is whether or not it is reasonable to dispense with the statutory consultation requirements. This application does not concern the issue of whether or not service charges will be reasonable or payable.
13. Having read the evidence and submissions from the applicant and noted that there have been no objections to this application, the Tribunal determines the dispensation issues as follows.
14. Section 20 of the Landlord and Tenant Act 1985 (as amended) and the Service Charges (Consultation Requirements) (England) Regulations 2003 require a landlord planning to undertake major works, where a leaseholder will be required to contribute over £250 towards those works, to consult the leaseholders in a specified form.

15. Should a landlord not comply with the correct consultation procedure, it is possible to obtain dispensation from compliance with these requirements by such an application as is this one before the Tribunal. Essentially the Tribunal must be satisfied that it is reasonable to do so.
16. The leading authority in relation to s.20ZA dispensation requests is Daejan Investments Ltd v Benson [2013] 1 WLR 854 (“Benson”) in which the Supreme Court set out guidance as to the approach to be taken by a tribunal when considering such applications. This was to focus on the extent, if any, to which the lessees were prejudiced in either paying for inappropriate works or paying more than would be appropriate, because of the failure of the landlord to comply with the consultation requirements. In his judgment, Lord Neuberger said as follows;
 44. Given that the purpose of the Requirements is to ensure that the tenants are protected from (i) paying for inappropriate works or (ii) paying more than would be appropriate, it seems to me that the issue on which the LVT should focus when entertaining an application by a landlord under section 20ZA(1) must be the extent, if any, to which the tenants were prejudiced in either respect by the failure of the landlord to comply with the Requirements.
 45. Thus, in a case where it was common ground that the extent, quality and cost of the works were in no way affected by the landlord’s failure to comply with the Requirements, I find it hard to see why the dispensation should not be granted (at least in the absence of some very good reason): in such a case the tenants would be in precisely the position that the legislation intended them to be – ie as if the Requirements had been complied with.
17. Accordingly, the Tribunal had to consider whether there was any prejudice that may have arisen out of the conduct of the applicant and whether it was reasonable for the Tribunal to grant dispensation following the guidance set out above.
18. The Tribunal is of the view that, taking into account that no objection has been received from any of the leaseholders, it could not find prejudice to them by the granting of dispensation relating to the remedial roof works, as set out in the application.
19. As stated above, the only issue for the Tribunal to decide is whether or not it is reasonable to dispense with the statutory consultation requirements. This application does not concern the issue of whether or not service charges will be reasonable or payable.

20. The Tribunal grants the applicant retrospective dispensation from the statutory consultation requirements in respect of works carried out at 18 Woodstock Grove, Shepherds Bush, London W12 8LA ("The building").
21. The Tribunal makes the following condition of such dispensation
22. The applicant shall be responsible for formally serving a copy of the Tribunal's decision on all leaseholders of the flats.
